

The Orpheus Club of Philadelphia

254 S Van Pelt Street, Philadelphia, PA 19103

Dear Orpheus Club Members:

Please find the enclosed tickets for our inspiring 2019 Mid-Winter Concert, “Songs of the Sea.” Please note the two dates on the enclosed tickets; each ticket may be used (once) for either concert night. (You may split use of your four tickets across both nights.)

Due to a generous offer from the Union League for two nights there, we are again going to perform the same concert on back to back nights in Lincoln Hall, on Wednesday, 6th and Thursday, March 7th. By going to the Club’s web site you can let us know approximately how many to expect on each night. You will not receive a reply or confirmation, except in the event of a pending capacity issue on one night or the other. The Club will send a follow up email to all members for whom we have email addresses, indicating “sold out” for that night, and for any so far not reserved to that point (which information will also be posted on the Club’s web site). We want to avoid a capacity issue and the need for standing on either night.

Plan to come early for a cash bar and complimentary hors d’oeuvres! The Union League will offer these in and around Lincoln Hall from 7:45 p.m. until 8:20 p.m. The same will apply at Intermission. We encourage using nearby parking garages other than the one the Union League owns on Sansom Street, since the exodus of all patrons at once causes a large bottleneck for a single garage and its staff, and thus a considerable wait time. We will have an unmanned coat check option upstairs, near Lincoln Hall.

During each performance, we will feature some of our own instrumentalists in addition to our special guests Trinidelphia to lift you out of your cold winter doldrums. The Club will be conducted by the talented and inspiring John Shankweiler, and accompanied by our amazing pianist, Mark Daugherty. Make plans now to attend!

Pre-concert Dining Options and After Parties.

For your convenience, dinner will be available before the Mid-Winter Concert both evenings, March 6 and 7, in the Founder's Room at the Union League. There will be one seating per evening from 5:30-7:30pm so that you may dine at your leisure before the concert. The impost is $55 per person NOT INCLUDING tax, gratuity, and beverages.

To make a reservation, please contact Casey Monahan at monahanc@unionleague.org or 215-563-6500 x2023 and provide your credit card information and number of people in your party. There will also be an after party with a cash bar held at the Union League each evening. All who have attended the Concert can attend this if they wish to.

Arrangements have also been made for Orpheus Members to dine at the following Clubs on both concerts nights, with reservations needed, as indicated below.
